

A Carmine-Ricci Heavy Industries Production

Detective

Buck

Passer

New York, The Bowery 1972

Detective Buck Passer is the assistant director of the homicide department for the NYPD's 9th precinct over in the filth infested Bowery district. Oddly enough that's right where he fits in. At one point in his life Buck might have had ambitions, goals, and taken a moral stand but too many years in the Bowery have eroded whatever of that he once had.

Detective Passer has two goals in his day to day life: don't do any paperwork and have enough change in his pocket lint to pick up a sixer of Schaefer from the bodega down the street on his way to his apartment by the train.

There has been a murder at an apartment block in the Bowery, it is up to Buck Passer to do what he does best: mess up the crime scene so another department has to do the paperwork.

Rave Reviews

- ☆ "Please stop calling us"
- IGN
- ☆ "Notification: emails flagged as spam"
- Giantbomb.com
- ☆ "We're calling security"
- Charles the Doorman, Vice Media
- ☆ "Cease and desist"
-NYPD's 9th Precinct
- ☆ "You'll be hearing from my counsel"
- Charlie Rose